DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: it appears the word "waster" is a misspelling of the word "water". Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. More specifically, it is unclear from the claim language what is meant by the phrase "greater in a vertical length than other portion".

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. More specifically, Applicant claims a preventing rib formed in a "closed-circle shape" on the outer bottom surface of the sump housing, however, in the drawings the preventing rib is formed in a rectangular shape.

Claims 9-13 recite the limitation "the extending portion". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 4-6, and 8-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sargeant et al. herein referred to as "Sargeant" (Patent No. 5,743,281).

Sargeant teaches a dishwasher having therein a sump 134, spray arm 75 (washing water storing portion), a wash pump impeller 95/bearing 115 (water supply connector), heating plate 141 (heater), and a filter plate 104 which forms opposite sides, namely an upper side wherein the spray arm is located and a lower portion wherein the heating plate is located. Casing 106 (preventing rib) is formed at an outer bottom portion of the sump. Sargeant further discloses a motor 78 (motor) and shaft 99 (heater receiving portion). As seen in Figure 12, the height of the lower part of the sump, namely motor area 78 is reduced as it goes outward/away from its centerpoint; this reads on Applicant's claim for an extending portion formed around the washing motor, extending a distance from the motor by a predetermined gap, formed along an edge of the outer bottom surface of the heater receiving portion and corner portions of the extending portion are curved at a predetermined curvature, formed only at a portion corresponding to the heater insertion connector and/or the heater insertion hole.
